Issues of "...Mobile Telecommunications..." - Development of constructive fraud in patent filings with pre-releases posted online, accuracy and generic-term usage in trademark registrations, first person filing rights over originator as so-called inventor rights, confusion of U.S. and International law, extrinsic fraud in non-restriction of domain top level names / profit taking from elimination of entity type, extinguishability upon patent termination of rights, and automatic rights of "inventor" publicity.

BE SEPARATED AND SENT TO VERIZON:

Requirements for Submission of Unsolicited Offers and Suggestions

AGREEMENT TO RECEIVE UNSOLICITED IDEAS AND RELATED MATERIALS

I am ☐ (check box) the originator, OR ☐ (check box) the duly authorized agent of the originator of the idea concerning _____ referred to in my communication dated _____. I have read and understood the "Verizon Requirements for Submission of Unsolicited Offers and Suggestions" pamphlet (to which this form was appended). In consideration of Verizon agreeing to receive materials describing the idea referred to above, I agree to the terms and conditions set forth below. I further agree that such terms and conditions shall apply to all additional submissions to Verizon related to the idea set forth above and made subsequent to the original material submitted.

1. Verizon agrees to receive your idea and a reasonable amount of non-duplicative materials describing the idea in the manner directed by Verizon upon your agreement to the terms and conditions of this agreement.
2. You agree that a submitted idea and any related materials will be received and considered by Verizon only on the understanding that all submissions to Verizon are not in confidence or subject to any restriction, other than those expressly set forth in this agreement; Verizon does not agree that the idea or any related material will be kept confidential, even if your idea or related materials contain confidential or restricted markings. Markings on any submissions indicating confidential treatment or proprietary information shall have no effect, and Verizon reserves the right to return or destroy materials with such markings. Verizon shall have the ability to share the idea and any submissions with Verizon and non-Verizon personnel.
3. You agree that Verizon has no obligation to perform any amount of consideration of the idea or related materials once received. Verizon may give an idea such consideration as Verizon believes the idea merits, at its sole discretion.
4. You agree that Verizon has no obligation to return any material submitted.
5. You agree that Verizon's receipt or consideration of, or subsequent negotiation or offer with respect to, an idea and any submitted materials will be without prejudice to Verizon. This includes, without limitation, Verizon's right to contest the applicability, validity or enforceability of any existing or future intellectual property right associated with the idea or any submitted materials. Furthermore, and also without limitation, you agree that Verizon's receipt or consideration of, or negotiation or offer on, an idea or any submitted materials shall not be deemed an admission of the patentability, the copyrightability or other protectability of the idea or any submitted materials, or of priority or originality of the idea or any submitted materials on the part of the submitter or any other person.

6. You agree that, in the event that no agreement is concluded related to your idea or any submitted materials, you shall rely solely upon any rights you may have or obtain under applicable patent laws as to such idea and the submitted materials.

7. You represent and warrant that you are the originator/owner of the idea and related materials submitted to Verizon and the owner of all intellectual property rights, if any, in or based on the idea and related materials. Except for the foregoing warranty, Verizon agrees that, unless the subject of a later agreement, you are providing the idea and any submitted materials with no other warranties of any kind.

8. In consideration of Verizon's agreement to receive your idea and related materials under the terms and conditions specified herein, you hereby grant to Verizon a non-exclusive, worldwide, perpetual license under the intellectual property rights (if any) held by you, now or in the future, in such ideas and submitted materials, for Verizon to exploit such in any manner, now known or later developed, for its own use or the use of others, through one or more layers of sublicensees, provided that the foregoing license will not include any rights or licenses under any patent rights you have or may obtain in the idea.

9. This agreement is the entire agreement related to your idea and submissions, and supersedes any previous agreement or understanding you may have had with Verizon. The terms and conditions of this agreement may only be altered by a subsequent writing executed by both you and Verizon. This agreement shall be interpreted according to the laws of the United States of America and the State of New York, as if all parties resided and all actions occurred within these jurisdictions.

Dear Tim

Thank you for your inquiry and feedback, which has been forwarded to me for response. We sincerely appreciate your support of Apple and your interest in Apple's success. But, we are not interested in your proposal. Apple has a stated company policy of not accepting or considering outside submissions for any purpose, due in part to the large volume of mail received. This policy can be found at <http://www.apple.com/legal/policies/ideas.html>

However, there are some ways you might be able to work with Apple.

If you'd like to build products that would interoperate with our iPod Touch, iPhone, or iPad, we have a licensing program called the Made for iPod Program (of which the Works with iPhone program is a part). Licensees under this program get access to some of our technology and interfaces that will enable the licensees to build products that interoperate with third party products. You can email the made for iPod Program office at madeforipod@apple.com for more info.

You should also check out our Apple Developer connection web page located at <http://developer.apple.com/>

We offer an SDK that enables developers to write applications that will run on the iPhone, iPad, and iPod Touch. See <http://developer.apple.com/iphone/program/> for more info.

With this letter, we also are returning the materials you sent us.

Thank you for your interest in Apple. We wish you the best of luck!

Regards,

Chi Chang

VIA CERTIFICATE OF MAILING DATED JULY 16, 2010

Supplier Notes on Apple Computer, Inc

Last update April 21, 2010 (Orig. April 21, 2009)

April 21, 2010 - Yesterday, Apple Computer released development issues about the I-Phone to the media and heard over the radio. A new I-Phone was not to be released until June, XXXX
XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX. The I-Phone was leaked out with the supposed problems today on April 21, 2010. The price of Apple Computers stock was reported to have gone up $14 per share.

Complaints of mine have been reported to the Federal Trade Commission that the practice be eliminated immediately as an advertising technique.

Cisco takes a long dive bleeds

Government, long a big, steady customer [REDACTED] has turned into a major headache [REDACTED] as debt-burdened countries and some U.S. states stopped buying new equipment.

An abrupt drop in spending by European nations and U.S. state and local governments is partly to blame for [REDACTED] bleak [REDACTED] forecast that rocked global markets [REDACTED]

Major indexes plunged shortly after the open, with the Nasdaq falling more than 2 percent, but slowly came back [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] as company [REDACTED]

The slowdown raises concerns that the company is neglecting its main business, as Cisco is expanding beyond its traditional network-equipment business into everything from video cameras [REDACTED]

"I think they have more exposure to a couple of areas that are weaker, in particular the public sector," said [REDACTED] analyst [REDACTED]

Cisco shares closed down 16.2 percent [REDACTED] on the Nasdaq, on disappointment over the revenue outlook it announced a day earlier.

The decline, which occurred in trading volume that was more than 10 times [REDACTED] daily average over the past 50 days, wiped out about [REDACTED] billion of the company's market capitalization.
